
MIKE ROTH, Queen's University

Some diophantine applications of local positivity

This talk is a survey of some recent results connecting measures of local positivity to diophantine statements. We will focus on relations between four different invariants, two of which are diophantine, and two of which are geometric.