
JACOB FOX, Stanford University

Regularity methods in discrete geometry

In this talk, I will discuss variants of Szemerédi's celebrated graph regularity lemma with much better quantitative bounds, and how they can be used to make progress on problems in discrete and computational geometry. Based on joint work with János Pach and Andrew Suk.