ADOLFO GUILLOT SANTIAGO, Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México
Algebraic differential equations with uniform solutions

In the complex domain, the solutions of an ordinary differential equation may present multivaluedness. We will talk about a recent result describing the ordinary differential equations (given by rational vector fields on complex algebraic surfaces) that have a solution that is not multivalued.