
CARLOS LARDIZABAL, Universidade Federal do Rio Grande do Sul

Hitting times and total variations of open quantum walks

In this work we discuss the notion of hitting times for open quantum random walks and some applications of the mean hitting time formula obtained recently in this context. Beside discussing the connection with site recurrence, a notion of total variation is presented and we study statistical aspects related to this notion.